Rapaport Releases Annual Price Statistics Report 2014

PRESS RELEASE, January 20, 2015, New York ... The Rapaport Group released its annual Diamond Price Statistics Report for 2014 today, evaluating the performance of polished diamond prices. The report provides an in-depth analysis of the trends that led to the reduction of polished diamond prices during the past year and it compares the price changes of specific diamond categories to reveal which were most affected by a decline in demand.

The Rapaport Diamond Price Statistics Report charts the progression of diamond prices and indexes in various sizes throughout the year and across a period of up to 35 years, to provide a complete study of the history and current standing of the global diamond market.

Also included is a diamond investment analysis detailing how various diamond categories have performed over the past 10 and 20 years in relation to other common investment materials.

The all-inclusive report is available for purchase online at <http://www.diamonds.net/Store/PriceStatistics2014.aspx> for $250 and has also been released in the January 2015 issue of Rapaport Magazine for all respective subscribers.
